I have a proven professional track record in environmental planning, compliance, and resiliency as a government consultant. In my role, I work on sustainability, floodplain management, energy efficiency, permitting, and decarbonization to mitigate climate change and encourage economic growth. Including my work experience in the environmental field, I have a Masters in Public Administration (MPA) in Environmental Science and Policy, and two reputable certifications: Certified Floodplain Manager (CFM); and LEED Associated Professional for Operations and Maintenance (LEED AP O+M). I am excited at the prospect of utilizing my skills and background to help this city continue to grow equitably by serving on the Hyattsville Environmental Committee. I have thoroughly enjoyed getting to know local Hyattsville business owners and other residents, and would appreciate the opportunity to serve. When I'm not working, I enjoy cooking, traveling, biking, and supporting local businesses like Maryland Meadworks.
