I moved to Hyattsville in 2018, and one of the things that most drew me to the community was the green canopy. It's a seemingly aesthetic thing but is so important to my day-to-day experience in Hyattsville and critical to our long-term environmental sustainability. I believe in the power of local government and the need to add environment to conversations about inequality. I'm looking forward to getting involved and working with my neighbors in the process.
