Acting Director of Community and Economic Development Holly Simmons introduced the City's consultant team from HR&A Advisors on the City's initiative to establish a Business Improvement District (BID).

Keiley Gaston, Senior Analyst from HR&A Advisors led the presentation which reviewed the project scope, work to date and next steps for the proposed BID.

Councilmember Denes asked if the $250,000.00 yearly donation from the City would be recouped based on the tax revenue with the proposed enhancements. Ms. Simmons stated that City services will not decrease, but that it is anticipated the enhancement in this area would increase investment and the City would see a return in additional tax revenue.

Councilmember Redmond asked how the engagement with the businesses is progressing and the level of business buy-in. Ms. Gaston stated back in February they conducted a business breakfast roundtable and received good feedback.

Councilmember Haba asked when the special bond will be retired. City Treasurer Ron Brooks stated the bond was re-financed three years ago and the new maturity date is in 25 years.

Councilmember Waszczak asked why the BID boundary does not include the library, First United Methodist Church, and the Teen Center. She asked if any non-profits stakeholders have been considered. Jared Press from HR&A stated the intent to draw the boundary which made sense for a feasible BID and which properties would contribute plus not drawing a boundary that is too large. Non-profits are non-contributing properties, so they are not considered.
